Others on our validation front (and money to be made here):

- Bellhaven Copper & Gold (TSX: V.BHV, Stock Forum) will post drill results from its La Mina gold and copper porphyry in Colombia by early September and possibly sooner. The fresh data could validate the red-rich channel samples and property layout I already have seen there. I think the shares will be extremely actionable in coming days. But then, I own 1.4 million shares and the company is a Ticker Trax Planetary Prospect. So I am positively swayed ... yet have zero intention of selling anything before BHV reaches at least $1 Canadian a share – which is possible in the next three to four weeks. Paul Zweng, interim CEO and Stanford University doctorate in geology, is also a founder of Peru's Antares Minerals. Another validation: Dr. Zweng brought in a high-sulphidation epithermal gold specialist, geologist Jeffrey Hedenquist, to view Bellhaven's Panama holdings. Please see articles via Stockhouse. Bellhaven has a shot at becoming a $200-plus million company in one year or less if one of its several primary prospects in Colombia or Panama "hit it."
- I intend to see the Sweden gold mine operated by Gold-Ore Resources (TSX: T.GOZ, Stock Forum) Sept. 7 to 9. Patrick Abraham of Panama, a director of Bellhaven and son of the late newsletter writer Larry Abraham, will accompany me. I own 12,000 shares of GOZ. I hope to validate the mine for Ticker Trax subscribers ... but no guarantees.

Ticker Trax™ started in November 2008. The service researches a select group of Planetary Prospects™ with legitimate shots at rising significantly in the span of two years, maybe less and maybe more. It is at www.tickertrax.com.
